

Parent-school relationships

Constant parental engagement in schoolwork and activities is essential for the positive achievement of teaching/educational outcomes. The aim of teachers is to establish a sound basis for real and consistent collaboration with families, compliant to the specifications set in the parent-school partnership.

This is achieved by means of:

- Class meetings, involving all parents and teaching staff
- Year/section meetings, involving teaching staff and class representatives
- Weekly one-on-one meetings with teachers
- Individual parent-teacher interviews

Facilities and equipment

School libraries: welcoming environments, designed to promote reading, research and inquisitiveness

Gym/sports halls: all schools have a gym/sports hall with all the equipment needed for sports and physical education. The school gardens allow the children to engage in free play outdoors.

Multimedia rooms: Internet connection in all classrooms, IT rooms, classrooms equipped with interactive whiteboards or screens.
